Sub: LIVESTOCK - District Livestock Farm, South Kanara - Construction of engine shed - Sanction of expenditure

Ref: From the D.A.H., No.4144 VI/51-1, dated 30-6-51.

The D.A.H. requests the sanction of Govt. to put up a tiled shed for the oil engine in the Dist. Livestock Farm, South Kanara at a cost of Rs.3,900/-.

The cost of the engine itself with pump and generator is about Rs.6,000/-, Prima facie the estimate seems very high. With reference to the instructions in Fin.U.O. Note No.26100-W&M-5, dated 13-6-51, the expenditure seems inadmissible. It should be possible to provide some cheaper sort of cover for the engine - e.g, a couple of galvanised iron corrugated sheets placed on 4 bamboo posts should do for the present. For orders. Fin. may see for remarks.

In a place with comparatively heavy rainfall, a permanent building to house the engine, appears necessary. The D.A.H's proposal may be accepted.

Summary.

The Government have sanctioned the installation of an oil engine dynamo and pump in the newly opened livestock Farm at Koila in the South Kanara District. The D.A.H. has submitted proposals for erecting a tiled shed at an estimated cost of Rs. 3,900 to house the oil engine. The proposal has been examined in consultation with Finance. Since South Kanara is a district with heavy rainfall, the provision of a pucca shed for the oil engine is considered necessary. A draft order sanctioning the expenditure is put up. The case may be circulated to H.M.(Agri.) and H.M.(Fin.) for orders.

Finance agree to the expenditure
